

Sights

Table of contents

- Famous Sights in Slovenia and Germany
- What we like about our country
- What we criticize about our country

Cologne cathedral

- Located in the heart of Cologne
- Took over 600 years to build
- One of the largest gothic cathedrals
- World heritage site

Brandenburg Gate in Berlin

- Located in Berlin Mitte district
- Built in the late 18th century
- Symbol of German unity and democracy
- Symbol of peace

SIGHTS IN SLOVENIA

An aerial photograph of Lake Bled in Slovenia. The lake's water is a vibrant turquoise color. In the center of the lake, a small island is covered with lush green trees and features a prominent white church with a tall, dark spire. The surrounding landscape consists of rolling hills and mountains, all densely covered with green forests. The sky is a clear, pale blue with a few wispy clouds. The overall scene is a beautiful representation of the Slovenian natural and cultural heritage.

Postojna cave

- Karst system in southwestern Slovenia
- Over 24km long, main cave 20 km
- Home to: endemic olm and cave-dwelling salamander („human fish“)
- Cave castle

Bled Lake

- In northwestern Slovenia
- Island with church and Bled Castle
- Kremšnita

What Germans like about their country

- Beer
 - Source of pride
 - Germans are known for it
- Culture and history
 - Rich cultural heritage
 - Numerous museums, art galleries, historical sites
- Quality of life
 - High quality of life
 - Good healthcare
 - Education

What Slovenians like about their country

- Natural beauty
- Food and drink
- Community spirit and safety

What Germans criticize about their country

- Bureaucracy
 - Complex system for most simple things
- Lack of flexibility
 - Punctuality
 - Following rules
- High taxes
 - High tax rate
 - Can be a burden for individuals and businesses

What Slovenians criticize about their country

- Corruption
- Brain drain- young Slovenians leave country
- Environment issues
- Ageing population
- Neighbors

